THE SUMMER & FALL OFFENSE ... by David McReynolds

The two national coalitions have held their major meetings and laid their plans for the summer and fall. The Pcoples Coalition for Peace and Justice met in Milwaukee, June 25-27, Ralph DiGia and I represented the WRL national office, and a number of WRL members were there as part of the total of 1100 delegates. A week later the National Peace Action Coalition met in New York City with more than 2000 delegates and an observer from WRL was present. WRL has from the beginning related itself to the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice, because that coalition is willing to support nonviolent civil disobedience and because its program covers a wider range of issues than simply peace. The first, and in many ways the most exciting fact is that the Peoples Coalition has survived and is slowly developing a sense of being a movement, one that brings blacks and whites, men and women, pacifists, and both new and old leftists together in an effort to find a program for the democratic transformation of American society. This was "Milwaukee Three". the first Conference in Milwankee, held in June of 1970, nearly flow apart from multial apoptation, a lack of treet to tween blacks and whites, between these on welfare and those from the middle class. "Milwaukce Two," held later in 1970, was even worse. And yet, thanks to the work and the courage of people like Dave Dellinger, Sid Peck, Brad Lyttle, William Douthard, and many others, the coalition survived, mounted the powerful Spring Offensive that climaxed in 13,500 arrests in Washington during the last week of April and the first week of May, And now, after a full year from its beginnings at "Milwaukee One," the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice seems on its way toward building the local roots needed to make it a viable new force for nonviolent

But no less exciting was the fact that, despite basic conflicts, the Peoples Coalition and the National Peace Action Coalition agreed on a joint calendar for fall actions. There were exchange delegations from NPAC at the Peoples Coalition conference, and from the Peoples Coalition at the NPAC conference.

A PING PONG-STYLE JOURNEY TO CUBA

by Jim Peck

Here are (from right to left) Ed Gottlieb, Edna Coleman, Sally Willoughby and I showing to reporters in Key West some of the 50 Cuban children's paintings we had received in exchange for U.S. children's paintings which we had delivered to Havana. We are standing on deck of the Mondeivitano (World Citizen). Scott Herrick's 47-foot ketch aboard which we made the journey. Not shown in this photo are Scott and the sixth crew member, Denis Adelsberger.

Our goodwill journey was similar in spirit to that of the U.S. ping pong tram to China—but with an important difference. In the latter case, the initiative had been taken by government—the Chinese government—whose invitation was accepted officially by the U.S. government. In our case, the initiative had been taken by civilians—specifically by Scott who thought-up the idea, by the WRL staff and executive committee members who decided to translate the idea into reality and by staff member Wendy Schwartz, who worked fulltime on it and set up exhibitions of the U.S. children's art work. (She now is planning similar exhibitions of the Cuban children's art work.) Though representatives of the U.S. State Department and of the Cuban government approved the project in conferring with our group, they both declined to give it official sanction. So we sailed without U.S. pas-ports, which are invalid for Cuba and without Cuban visas. Our only identification was

..... many to making the secret Pentagon Papers available to the Times and other papers, 'everal n is before the Times began publication, Ellsberg had lunch with a member of the WRL staff and said then that he was releasing the entire topsecret story as fast as he could.

We note four observations, First, Ellsberg's decision to act is proof that A.J. Muste was correct in believing that within every man and woman there is the capacity to act as a moral person. Ellsberg's decision was a victory for all Americans but most of all, it was a great personal victory for him.

Second, those who have followed the war found little that was new in the Pentagon Papers--what we did find was confirmation from a high and official level of the statements we had been making for ten years. The Pentagon papers may become the "20th Constean of American Liberations." At the time of Stalin's death the evidence of repression and terror within the Soviet Union was public fact, accepted by all but the most frithful Communists. When Khrushchev rose at the 20th Congress of the Soviet Party to confirm the murderous nature of Stalin's regime, it forced every Communist in the world to begin thinking, individually, In the same way, the Pentagon Papers prove that the "radicals" were right for the last ten years and that it was the government which had been lying. It will be many years before the American government will be able again to command automatic support.

Third, it is terrifying to realize how horribly wrong the best experts were. We had trusted our national destiny to the Kennedy brain trust and in the end they proved tragically in error, despite their statistics and computers.

Fourth, we are amused and delighted to reflect on the increasing incompetence of the government security agencies. Ellsberg had been toting top secret documents around with him for months, to Congressman and Senators, to newspaper editors, and talking about those documents to known radicals and yet the FBI knew nothing about it until the Times began publication--and then the FBI couldn't find Ellsberg himself. for two full weeks and had a wait until he calmly turned him al assured to note that it are increasingly in a

Pentagon Papers: A hush-hush project of record magnitud

"We have a big project unde something to do with the war," Gold, an assistant foreign edito told at the end of March. "Yo working on it with Neil Sheehar

So began the guarded steps to publication of The Times series Pentagon Papers, 7,000 pages of tret documentary history on the V war, obtained through the invest reporting of Sheehan. Before the installment startled the world paper of Sunday, June 13—two half months later—about the news and production were privy to at least some physhat was going on.

"You can pass out all the segulations you want," Managing A. M. Rosenthal said later, "but possible to enforce them unless want not to talk."

Not a word about the specific of the project leaked.

Gold checked into a two-room the Jefferson Hotel in Washing Monday, April 5. There he met Si who had slipped unobtrusively out Washington bureau. For two they worked out the dimensions project and assembled a library of and periodicals on Indochina a Vietnam war to guide them in mining what in the Pentagon histopublic knowledge and what was

After two weeks in Washingtor han and Gold briefed top manage: New York on the magnitude of t Rosenthal outlined the plans to tilisher and got from him the signa ahead with preparation of the pa was agreed that extra hands were—how many, no one at that timtell. It was decided to move the to New York where the logistics plying extra help would be simpl in Washington.

On Thursday, April 22, Sheen Gold moved into a three-room s the Hilton Hotel on the Avenue Americas. Peter Millones, assis

the managing editor, had selected to vering Hilton because of its siz figured it would be easy to remain ymous there. He equipped the rooms with electric typewriters, two safes, filing cabinets, desks and chairs, including a straight-backed wooden chair for Sheehan, who has back trouble. The crew was augmented althost immediately by Al Siegal, also an assistant foreign editor, and by Muriel Stokes, a newsroom secretary. Sheehah worked and slept in one of the suite's two bedrooms; Gold, who lives in Oceanside, L. I., slept in the other and worked in it with Siegal, who lives in Manhattan and slept at home. Miss Stokes pounded a typewriter in the living room, between the bedrooms.

In the succeeding days and weeks writers, editors and secretaries disappeared from their regular spots and joined the staff-in-hiding at the Hilton. Hedrick Smith, who was about to leave the Washington bureau for assignment to Moscow, put-off his departure and turned up at the Hilton instead. So did Ned Kenworthy, the Washington bureau's environmental expert. When their colleagues in Washington wondered where Sheehan Smith and Kenworthy had gone, Bob Phelps, the bureau news editor, said, "Don't ask."

The fourth writer assigned to the project was Fox Butterfield, a local staff reporter who has reported from both North and South Vietnam. He vanished from Newark, his present beat, although at one point he had to leave the Hilton to appear before a Newark grand jury investigating his mugging at a stormy school strike session last winter! Sam Abt left the rim of the foreign copy desk to join Gold and Siegal. Linda Amster, head of newsroom researchers, disappeared as did three newsroom secretaries—Eileen Butler, Gall Fresco and Lesiie Tonner—and Cathie Shea, secretary at the U.N. bureau.

To maintain secrecy, all were instructed not to show their faces on 43d Street. Foreign Editor James L. Greenfield, in direct charge of the project, shuttled between the Hilton and his newsroom desk.

The walls of Suite 1107 at the Hilton began to bulge. Two adjoining rooms were engaged and even those could not accommodate all hands, all documents, all equipment. The copy editors—Gold, Siegal and Abt—took another three-room suite, 1310, two floors above. And during the final week of preparation, Dick McSorley of the make-up desk moved into another thirteenth floor room to start laying out the pages.

The Hilton rooms—nine, all told—were in Jerry Gold's name to preserve anonymity for the byline writers. Room Service sometimes got 12 orders for breakfast for Mr. Gold. One monwhen Jerry himself put in an orde said, "This is the real Mr. Gold."

"It's an honor," Room Service replied. The team soon developed its own folk-lore: there were all the baths that Sam Abt took; there were the rubber ducks his teammates bought him (the chamber-maids dusted them daily); there was the night Gail Fresco returned very late from an errand, sexy in a pants suit, and got stopped by a hotel detective who doubted her intentions. And there was Room Service which—the staff insist—never failed to deliver three forks for every four meals ordered.

On the few occasions when the rooms were long dinner, an occasional break for a dinner, an occasional meeting at Jim Greenfield's apartment—security guards from 43d Street were dispatched to the Hilton to keep the watch. But the massive job of writing, editing, collating and typing kept the crew at it on an average of 12 to 15 hours a day. All hands agreed that the assignment was exhilarating—and exhausting.

Gold got to his home on Long Island only five times during the ten weeks. Some of the neighbors asked Mrs. Gold if they were getting a divorce. "He's home so seldom," they noted, "and every time he leaves he takes a suitcase."

The most trustrated man on the project was Renato Perez, assistant picture editor. He spent weeks rummaging in the files of obscure photo agencies for material to illustrate the early days of American involvement in Vietnam. He assembled a large collection of pictures—but they were all squeezed out when the Pentagon Papers overflowed their expected space.

Rosenthal laid down specific guidelines for the project. "We are not going to tell The New York Times story of the war," he instructed the writers and editors. "We are going to tell the Pentagon story. That's what we have that nobody else has,"

"It was an astonishing intellectual exercise," Rosenthal said later. "They had to pour an unlimited amount of information into their brains, logically, coherently and passionlessly. They had to be familiar with what had been written about Vietnam and compare the public record with the private. As a professional journalistic accomplishment I've never seen anything like it."

It was late in May when Vice President Walter Mattson summoned Production Manager John Werner his assistant Robert Kahlor, and George Lapolla, composing room general foreman, to a closed-door meeting in his office.

We're going to have to set a lot of type in absolute secrecy and we don't know when we can start," Mattson told them. "How are we going to d They batted possibilities around.

Early in June, Mattson and Lapo New York to attend a mechanica vention. Mattson told Rosenthal to tact Werner when he was ready.

On Tuesday, June 8, Rosenthal Werner how much advance notineeded to get set up. Two days, ner told him. Rosenthal said he him know when to start.

Werner met with Kahlor and composing room foremen—Mke faele, Nate Jackson and John For He told them the job would run to 42 pages, that the secrecy had to solute. They agreed that space have to be found off the composing floor.

Werner took the problem to R Rogers, manager of general sei Rogers conferred with John Schwar building's space coordinator. What had to find was space on a floor renough to sustain the weight of composing room machinery. There an empty office on the ninth flo floor built to hold 250 pounds to a sfoot. perforators, a galley proof press, the saw, a page storage cabinet, make-up tables, a desk for proof readers, a paper shredder to destroy extra proofs. At 5 P.M. a complete mini composing room was ready. Outside the locked door a plant patrolman stood watch with strict orders to admit only the people whose names appeared on a list prepared by the news and production departments.

Werner and Kahlor went to the Hilton with Greenfield to be briefed on details by Al Siegal. They returned to the ninth floor with the first batch of copy at 6 P.M. Two TTS operators—Nelson Scalia and Robert Green—began to perforate the first tapes. The tapes—but no copy—were carried down to a corner of the composing room to be run through Linotypes, and the type was carried back upstairs where proofs were pulled and pages made up.

On Friday morning the publisher, who had been reading the prepared material during the week, gave the project his final O.K.

The copy flow from the Hilton became a torrent. Teams of printers, 50 to 60 in all, moved in and out of the ninth floor room on a round-the-clock schedule. Each man had been told that this was an immensely secret project. If he agreed to work on it he must agree not to about it. No one talked, though by time almost everyone in the busensed that something unusual was on. The rumor mill began to gring

ELLSBERG SUGGESTED IT WOULD BE A GOOD THING IF SOMEONE WROTE A PAPER EXPOSING THE PROS AND CONS OF THE VALUE OF SUCH "THINK TANKS". INTERCEPT ELLSBERG AS HE WAS LEAVING HIS RESIDENCE DESTINED TO A LOCAL LAUNDRY WITH A BAG OF DIRTY CLOTHES. WHEN ASKED CONCERNING GARRITY'S DECISION. ELLSBERG STATED. "NOT SURPRISING ." AND PRAISED HIS LAWYER FOR RAISING "IMPORTANT CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES . " ELLSBERG SAID HE WAS CONVINCED HE DID THE RIGHT THING BY LEAKING THE FORTYSEVEN VOLUME PENTAGON STUDY AND THAT HE HAD INTENDED THAT THE ENTIRE STUDY SHOULD HAVE BEEN MADE AVAILABLE SO THAT " THE AMERICAN PUBLIC WOULD HAVE BEEN ABLE TO CONSIDER THEM. EXAMINE THEM AND FORM THEIR OWN OPINIONS ON ISSUES OF WAR AND PEACE AND ON THE ISSUE OF HOW THEY ARE SERVED BY THE EXECUTIVE OF THIER GOVERMENT." THE ARTICLE CONTINUES THAT ELLSBERG WAS DISAPPOINTED BECAUSE TWO MONTHS AFTER ""THIS THING BEGAN. NO NEWSPAPER HAS PRINTED ANYTHING BUT A VERY TINY FRACTION OF THE PENTAGON PAPERS. 'THE NEW YORK TIMES' AND THE "WASHINGTON POST" HAVE MOST OF THE PAPERS BUT THE PUBLIC END PAGE TWO

DOESN'T HAVE THEM. I HAVE TO SAY THAT MEANS MANY NEWSPAPERS IN THIS COUNTRY WHICH HAVE ACCESS TO LARGE SECTIONS OF THE PENTAGON STUDY ARE NOW IN THE BUSINESS OF WITHHOLDING IT FROM THE AMERICAN PUBLIC JUST AS THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT WAS FOR SO LONG IN THAT BUSINESS." ELLSBERG CONCEDED THAT A BANTAM POCKET BOOK ON THE STUDY OF THE WAR IS USEFUL BUT HE CONTEDED "IT CONTAINS LESS THAN ONE TENTH OF THE COMPLETE STUDY . " HE SAID THE FACT THAT THE NEWSPAPERS HAVE PRINTED ONLY A SMALL PORTION OF THE PENTAGON PAPERS " IS UNDERSTANDABLE FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF THE NEWSPAPERS ." HOWEVER . HE SAID THE PUBLIC MUST HAVE ACCESS TO THE ENTIRE STUDY TO APPRECIATE THAT THE VIETNAM WAR IS AN AMERICAN WAR. "I CAN SAY IT. A NEWSPAPER CAN SAY IT. BUT IT DOESN'T GET THROUGH. ## NOTE:

We received earlier report from Los Angeles that authority of Patricia Ellsberg, had obtained a footlocker from the Ellsberg storage articles maintained at Bekins. The footlocker allegedly contained numerous film magazines and personal papers, in locating the footlocker and obtaining search warrant for its production. It would appear the contents of the footlocker could add mation to the news media, and instant instructions are therefore gative attention. Information concerning Department interest in this matter was conveyed telephonically to W. R. Wannall by Department Attorney: James McGrath 8/10/71.

UNAUTHORIZED DISCLOSURE OF CLASSIFIED INFORMATION; THE "NEW YORK TIMES" SERIES REGARDING UNITED STATES VIETNAM RELATIONS, 1945-1967

On March 24, 1961,

In response to your letter of July 30, 1971, a search was made of our Identification Division files to determine if fingerprints could be located on the five individuals you named.

Fingerprints were found for one Daniel Ellsberg, born April 7, 1931, pertaining to his enlistment in the United States Marine Corps on August 31, 1953, and also for his arrest on June 28, 1971, by the United States Marshal in Boston, material (espionage). On the basis of the information furnished no

Massachusetts, for unauthorized possession of top secret

fingerprints were found for the other individuals mentioned.

To summarize, for information, data received during the night from offices involved in our continuing investigation in the leak of classified information to "The New York Times."

At removal hearing in Boston on 8/4/71 relative to indictment outstanding against Daniel Ellsberg, Magistrate Peter W. Princi recommended that Ellsberg be removed to the Central District of California pursuant to the indictment which charges Ellsberg with violation of the Espionage Statute. Princi's decision will be reviewed by Judge Arthur Garrity at a hearing this morning in Boston.

Anthony Russo, friend of Ellsberg's who reportedly assisted Ellsberg in duplication of classified documents in California in about 10/69, and who was recently held in contempt by Federal Court, Los Angeles, because of his refusal to testify before Federal Grand Jury after receiving immunity from prosecution, was issued a stay of commitment by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, Los Angeles, on 8/4/71 until 8/9/71 as Russo's attorney stated time was needed to petition the Supreme Court relative to bail.

Russo, at a sidewalk press conference in front of United States District Court, Los Angeles, on 8/4/71, personally acknowledged he had received a stay of commitment and contended he would not cooperate with a Grand Jury. Present at this press conference were representatives from the Peace Action Council, as well as University of California at Los Angeles
Professor Donald Kalish, a well-known peace activist.

Prior information was received that a benefit party for May Day funds sponsored by Women Strike for Peace, a national pacifist organization, had been scheduled for 8/3/71 at a restaurant in Georgetown. Daniel Ellsberg was reportedly going to attend this function; however, our coverage of the function revealed that Ellsberg did not show up. Memorandum to C. D. Brennan

RE: MC LEK 65-74060

Convention, and William Kuntsler, well-known defense attorney who was involved in the trial of the Chicago Seven, were observed in attendance at this function.

Daniel Ellsberg is scheduled to speak at a public meeting on 8/8/71 at the Community Building, Woods Hole, Massachusetts. One of the sponsors has been identified as Mrs. George Wald, wife of Harvard University Professor George Wald, a Nobel Prize winner who has publicly declared himself against United States involvement in Southeast Asia. This speech by Ellsberg will be monitored if feasible.

Information was previously received that Ellsberg's wife. Mrs. Patricia Ellsberg, contacted the Bekins Moving and Storage Company, Framingham, Massachusetts, 8/2/71, requesting that certain items in storage at Bekins' warehouse in Santa Monica, California, be released to David Obst of Washington, D. C. On 8/4/71, inquiry at Bekins Moving and Storage, Santa Monica, California, revealed that Patricia Ellsberg had authorized David Obst, 5902 Wrightcrest Drive, (Culver City, California), to pick up a footlocker which was stored at Bekins' warehouse in Santa Monica. Records show that in 3/70, several cartons, pictures, a suitcase, clothesbag, two metal cases and one metal handcase were placed in storage by Ellsberg. Records also show that in 9/70 household effects from Ellsberg's residence in Malibu were stored at the Bekins' warehouse. Prior investigation has revealed these household effects were subsequently delivered to Ellsberg in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Records of Bekins Moving and Storage, Santa Monica, California, show that Daniel Ellsberg personally picked up the abovementioned two metal cases from storage in 5/70.

Bekins Moving and Storage, advised 8/4/71 he personally was present when two individuals whose names he did not know came to the warehouse 8/2/71 to obtain a footlocker previously placed in storage by Ellsberg. The footlocker was opened to insure it was the one of interest and it was recollection the footlocker contained what he believed were instamatic film magazines. He stated the footlocker was not locked and estimated the weight at approximately 100 pounds. He recalled the two individuals who picked up the footlocker said it had to be delivered the next day (8/3/71) to New York.

Memorandum to C. D. Brennan RE: MC LEK 65-74060

Investigation is continuing to identify the two individuals who picked up the footlocker, as well as to ascertain to where the footlocker was shipped in New York.

Investigation is being conducted to determine Obst's connection with Ellsberg.

ADMINISTRATIVE

The identities of sources and informants contacted in El Paso regarding this matter are not being set forth in this communication but are maintained in the file of EP relating to this case.

A review of EP files fails to show any "New Left" or similar activity in EP during the period 1/5-6/71, which might have been attended by ELLSBERG or served as the purpose of his visit. In view of his telephonic statement to Federal Correctional Institution, La Tuna, Texas, it appears logical that he was travelling to or from California and stayed overnight in EP, a convenient Sheraton Hotel personnel, upon reviewing the restaurant bill of ELLSBERG on 1/6/71, advised that undoubtedly he ate breakfast with his wife, since the bill was from the coffee shop. Due to a change of ownership on 1/6/71, the day of his departure, motel records are incomplete and no itemization of his expenditures could be located.

Correctional Institution (FCI), La Tuna, Texas, was interviewed and he furnished the following information:

Sometime prior to March 15, 1971, he received a telephone call at his office at the FCI from an individual giving the name of DANIEL ELLSBERG and identifying himself as a friend of DAVID VICTOR HARRIS, an inmate at that institution.

The caller indicated that he was in New York and intended to travel to California, to the best of WILLIAMS' recollection, and he desired to know whether he would be allowed to visit with HARRIS if he, the caller, were to come to La Tuna, Texas, which is located a short distance from El Paso, Texas.

checked with the office of the Warden of FCI, where he was advised that such a visit would be permitted. relayed this information to the caller.

DAVID VICTOR HARRIS, was convicted on May 29, 1968, in U. S. District Court, Northern District of California, San Francisco, California, for violation of Title 50, Section 462, U. S. Code, in that he refused to submit to be inducted into the military service. According to records reviewed HARRIS began serving his sentence on August 7, 1969, and was paroled March 15, 1971, parole Officer, San Francisco, California. When departing on parole, HARRIS, who is the husband of folk singer JOAN BAEZ, indicated his forwarding address as

There is no record of any individual by the name of ELLSBERG actually ever having visited HARRIS at FCI.

El Paso, Texas, was interviewed and she furnished the following information:

Guest registration card number 025912 of the Sheraton-El Paso Motor Inn shows that Mr. and Mrs. DANIEL ELLSBERG, 10 Hilliard Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts, giving firm name of "M.I.T." Cambridge, Mass., and indicating that they were driving a Maverick automobile with Texas license plates, number not given, registered in room 244 on January 5, 1971, indicating that they would stay only one night.

The card indicates that there were two adults in the party and a stamped notation on the back side of the card indicates that DANIEL ELLSBERG has Diners Club card number 5899 2538 7.

There is no itemization of the charges made by Mr. ELLSBERG, although the room rate was $18.00 and the total charges amounted to $31.77, plus a $3.95 additional charges in the Sheraton coffee shop.

speculated that in view of the amount of difference between the room rate and the total bill there were undoubtedly charges for meals and services on the part of the ELLSBERGS.

She noted that the Resort America Corporation assumed ownership of the Sheraton-El Paso Motor Inn on January 6, 1971, the same date as the departure of ELLSBERG, and the records are not as complete as they otherwise might be.

A review of El Paso telephone and city directories for the years 1970 and 1971, fails to show any business organization listed under the name of Tri-State Kuto Rental. There is one listing for Tri-State Motors, 3401 Dyer Street, El Paso, and contact on July 27, 1971, determined it to be an auto sales agency.

On July 27, 1971, Tri-State Motors, 3401 Dyer, advised that this firm deals strictly in the sales of used automobiles and has never been engaged in the rental business. Indicated that because of his location near Ft. Bliss, Texas, he deals mainly in older model, cheaper makes of cars which he sells to the enlisted men at Ft. Bliss for nominal prices. He has never had a Mayerick automobile for sale at his place of business.
